A Message from Your Priest

Dear Friends,

Karen, Amelia and I will be away this Sunday, and we will miss you. Karen and I will attend a seminar down in La Jolla, and Amelia will go to stay with my folks in Bakersfield. We will miss you, even though we are thrilled to be headed out of town for a weekend of challenging spiritual work. We will miss you, even though the time alone is a long-time coming. We will miss you. And, when we are away you will enjoy the wisdom and pastoral presence of The Rev. Julie Morris, who is very excited to be with you this Sunday. And, you may miss us, too. That's what happens when one is engaged in relationship with those they love...they miss them when they're gone.

The Early Church missed Jesus when he left. They missed their rabbi, their friend, their savior. They were sad to see him taken away at the Ascension. Sure, they were wrapped up in the mystery and the glory. But when all the angelic choruses were over, and the heavenly fog had dissipated, and they knew that they were alone, their hearts were saddened. Because they missed Jesus. They missed his presence, his comforting and convicting teachings, and probably his wicked sense of humor.

But they did not miss him for long. They were not left alone for long. For the very Spirit of Jesus, the Holy Spirit of God, which animated and inspired Jesus to be the most Jesus God the Father had created him to be, was coming to live within them all: Jew and Gentile, man and woman. Everybody who was willing would be filled with the Spirit of Jesus on Pentecost. This Sunday, we will celebrate the Feast of Pentecost, when the Holy Spirit of God descended on the new church like tongues of fire, bestowing grace and comfort and boldness. This Sunday we celebrate the birthday of the Church! So, while we will not be together this Sunday in person, know that Karen and I will be with you in spirit, to celebrate the goodness of God reflected in the goodness of the Church! And, remember to wear red, the color of the Holy Spirit!

Happy Birthday, Church!

(The Rev.) George Daisa
