A Message from Your Priest

Dear Friends,

Thanks be to God, after nearly two decades, your priest is finally living in the St. Patrick's Rectory again! My family and I moved into the nearly completed rectory last Friday, and although we are living in what can only be described as 'box city', we are relieved and delighted to finally be done with the transitional move from Culver City to Thousand Oaks, and we are ready to settle in and make the rectory our home.

There have been many hurdles and challenges since August 6, 2016, when Anna Merriman, your Senior Warden, my parents and I toured the rectory only to discover to our shock that it was in complete disrepair. Over the last ten months, your Vestry and I have worked to restore it, and rebuild it even better - and more sustainable - than ever before. It will serve as a home and retreat for future rectors and their families for many years to come, offering a comfortable sanctuary from the busy work of the parish without having to leave the property, or fight traffic, (except perhaps for the copious bunnies and lizards one has to navigate up the Biblical Garden path to the church). My family and I hope to stay with you and live here for many years, but when we leave, this new rectory will also serve as an added attraction as you call a new rector. In the end, this rectory will be a blessing for all who live in it, all who visit it, and for the community as a whole. You can be proud of the work done, and the home restored.

Congratulations, St. Patrick's! And, thank you.

(The Rev.) George Daisa

Celebrating the Ministry of Robert Galletly - Sunday, July 9

We celebrate the ministry of Robert Galletly this Sunday, July 9, after the 10:15 service. After years of ministry as the St. Patrick's Youth Group Director, Robert will complete his ministry as staff, and will focus on completing his teaching credential. Although Robert will no longer serve on staff, he will not be far - he will continue to worship with us, and participate in the community he has been a part of for fifteen years! Please join in celebrating Robert and his ministry July 9.
